Antioch Trustees Hike Pay Of Village Workers

The Antioch Village Board of Trustees, in its last action before the new board takes over next month, hiked the pay of village employees, in some cases as high as $700 annually.

The village board also changed its meeting day from the first and third Tuesday of every month to 8 p.m. on the first and third Wednesday of every month. But the meeting change had to come about through the vote of Mayor Raymond Toft as the village board split three to three on the change.

Voting for the new meeting date were Trustees Vern Barnstable, Robert Wilton and Richard Radke. Voting against it were retiring board member Arthur R. Meierdick, J. Irving Walsh and Richard O. Burnette.

Meierdick will be replaced on the board by Richard J. Daniel who was elected to the post on April 15. Daniel was consulted in the time change and okayed it.

The $700 increase voted by the board will go to the superintendent of public works, the superintendent of the water department, the police chief, and street, water and police employees, and the building commissioner.

The board also hiked the overtime rate 25-cents to $2.75 per hour, gave a $500 raise to the police radio operator and clerk and $100 hike to the juvenile officer.

The collector will receive $3 per hour—off a salary, and onto an hourly basis; the treasurer $2.75 per hour—off salary and onto an hourly basis; and extra clerical help $2.50 an hour—no change.

The board also approved the hiring of George Boyd in the street department for $6,000 annually.

Toft made some of his appointments at the meeting. They included:

Edward C. Jacobs, attorney; Jack Davis, police chief; Charles Maplethorpe, fire chief; Edgar Simonsen, superintendent of public works; Walter Delaney, Sr., building commissioner and plumbing, heating and electrical inspector; Mrs. Walter Delaney, treasurer; Mrs. Marilyn Stierbenz as village collector, and Edward J. Frazier, civil defense director.

Bus Firm Wants To End Run

The United Motor Coach Co. has filed an application for an order with the Illinois Commerce Commission to discontinue and abandon nine routes, including one affecting the Antioch area.

The route proposed to be abandoned here is the summer operation between Wheeling and Antioch and the Illinois-Wisconsin State line.

The transportation firm is seeking to discontinue the service because of the failure of the public to utilize the service.

The firm, in its petition in Springfield, said the lack of customers has caused monetary losses which "jeopardize its economic stability and ability to provide service."

The nine routes proposed to be abandoned, according to the firm, are those over which the least amount of customers are serviced and the revenues from the operations do not cover out-of-pocket costs.

The firm maintains that the discontinuance of service will not work any substantial hardship on the traveling public or the communities involved.

Antioch Man To Prison

Edward M. Murray, 59, of Antioch, has been sentenced to 10 years in prison on counterfeiting charges.

Murray was sentenced last Friday by Federal Judge Alexander J. Napoli, along with Nimrod Solomon, 37, Charles Bartoli, 53, and William Aloisio, 61.

Both Aloisio, who was sentenced to five years, and Solomon were reputed to be loan sharks.

They, along with Stanley Jasinski, 40, were convicted by a U. S. district court jury of conspiring to make and sell $10 million in counterfeit U. S. Treasury notes.

Murrie Will Head Finance Committee

Antioch Township Supervisor Lloyd E. Murrie will once again head up the finance committee for the Lake County Board of Supervisors.

Committee assignments were approved at Tuesday's meeting of the county board.

Murrie will also serve as vice chairman of the health, education and welfare committee.

Pontius, planning and zoning; John A. Shafer, highway; Harry L. Knigge, public works; Joseph J. Nemanich, public safety and communications; Ronald R. Colos, data processing; Ernest W. Minter, purchasing; Lillian F. Wirtz, historical preservation; Joseph P. Welch, legislative.

CLC's Accreditation Status

(Ninth in a Series)

A frequently asked question during the past several weeks has been: what is the status of accreditation of the College of Lake County? According to Dr. Richard Erzen, President of CLC, the new community college has progressed rapidly toward achieving several levels of recognition.

Within the month, the College has been advised it has been given Correspondent status by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Dr. Erzen explained this is a new category established by NCA, and is given to a collegiate institution, not necessarily in operation, which has indicated its intent to work toward full accreditation, and having provided evidence of sound planning and the resources to implement these plans, appears to have the potential for attaining this goal within a reasonable time.

"Full accreditation cannot be achieved in NCA until the College has graduated students. CLC has taken the initial steps toward this end, and receiving Correspondent status gives us the opportunity to establish a formal, publicly recognized relationship with NCA."

Dr. Erzen noted further that it normally takes three to five years to receive full accreditation from the Association. Having shown intent to seek this standing and receiving Correspondent status in the interim, is an acknowledgment of the high caliber programs being initiated at CLC, he said.

In the second area of accreditation, the College has been advised that credits earned at CLC in the University Parallel Program will be accepted by the State Systems of Colleges and Universities in Illinois for a period of five years from the date of CLC's first enrollment. Dr. Erzen explained this provision is based on the period usually deemed necessary for NCA Accreditation.

In addition, the College has received correspondence from Illinois State University, Northern Illinois University and the University of Illinois that they will accept credits for transfer from CLC students upon completion of two full years of study at the College. Dr. Erzen said CLC's transfer program was formulated through consultation with these and other four-year state and private universities, and coincides with courses usually taken during the first two years of college.

"Transfer of credits to other colleges and universities is an important consideration for prospective students. And although having received Correspondent status in the North Central Association does not assure transfer of credits, it does show CLC to be a sound institution of high learning, and will serve as an indicator to universities that CLC has set high standards for its academic program."

The College of Lake County is designated a Class I Community college by the Illinois Junior College Board and the Illinois Board of Higher Education. CLC also holds membership in the Illinois Association of Junior Colleges and the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Accreditation is important to the college from a financial standpoint, as well as from an educational point of view. Achieving

Crash Kills Boy, 17

Kirk L. Lokke, 17, of Felters Subdivision, Antioch, was killed and four Antioch teen-agers injured Sunday in a two-car crash on 122nd Street in Salem Township.

Lokke's westbound car was hurled on its side into a ditch along with another auto which went out of control and overturned.

Injured in the crash were two passengers in Lokke's auto, Dewey R. Gardien, 17, of RFD 4, Antioch, and Barbara Dost, 16, of RFD 4, Antioch. Neither was hospitalized.

Injured in the other auto, but not hospitalized, were Patricia M. Toman, 16, of RFD 4, Antioch, and her passenger, Georgene M. Palaske, 16, of 900 Hillside, Antioch.

Kenosha County's sheriff's deputies said Miss Toman was overtaking the Lokke auto when her car went out of control, colliding with the Lokke vehicle. Her car ended upside down, partly on the Lokke car.

Lokke was a native of Antioch and a senior at Antioch High School. He is survived by his mother, Gladys.

Services were held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday from the Strang Funeral Home, Antioch, with the Rev. Donald Cobb of the Antioch Methodist Church officiating.

Assessor Will Hear Complaint

County Treasurer Raymond J. Sheahan, who is also County Collector, says when residents begin receiving their tax bills this week they should direct any inquiries to their township assessor. Sheahan made the comment on the public service program "This Week in Lake County" which is broadcast each weekend on five local stations serving the county. He said, "Every year our phones begin ringing as soon as bills are received, yet my staff is not in a position to answer questions pertaining to each of the taxing districts. What's why we have to refer the callers to their own assessor."

Since the treasurer acts as collection agent for each of the 180 different taxing districts in the county, a fee of three percent is charged each district. This pays for the additional staff needed during tax time when approximately 250,000 bills are sent out. Sheahan says if an outside agency were used it would cost anywhere from eight to ten per cent more for collection.

Disbursements of tax monies to the various districts is made through the Treasurer's office in June, July, August, September and a final payment in February.

The County Collector was critical of those who do not pay per (Continued on page two)

Highway Employees Build New Machine

Two members of the Lake County Highway Department have designed and built a piece of specialty equipment which is unique in the country. Superintendent Melvin Amstutz says there isn't another like it anywhere and if it isn't patented, some manufacturer will surely copy it.

The device is a self-propelled roller to be used in highway widening projects. Before the roller was developed the department either rented another type of device or used the wheels of a road grader to pack down base material in the section to be widened.

Made mostly of scrap material, including the engine from a junked truck, the roller was assembled by Al Thoenie, chief mechanic, and Clarence Hanson, master mechanic and welder at the highway department garage. Total cost of the rig was $8,000. Amstutz says if the roller had been made by a manufacturing firm it would have cost at least $30,000. He called Thoenie and Hanson two of the best mechanics in the county.

The finished product looks like it just came off an assembly line, yet with the exception of hydraulic lifters for the two left wheels and some hoses, the entire assembly was fabricated from left over parts. The lifters allow the two rubber left tires to remain on the pavement while the large steel roller wheels on the right crush and tamp the base course as it goes.

Designed as a cost and labor-saving device, the new roller will (Continued on page two)

A Sorry Lot

Some people take care of their vacant property—but it is sad to relate that others don't.

The picture here is one taken at a Petite Lake Subdivision lot and shows the mess that can accumulate through neglect.

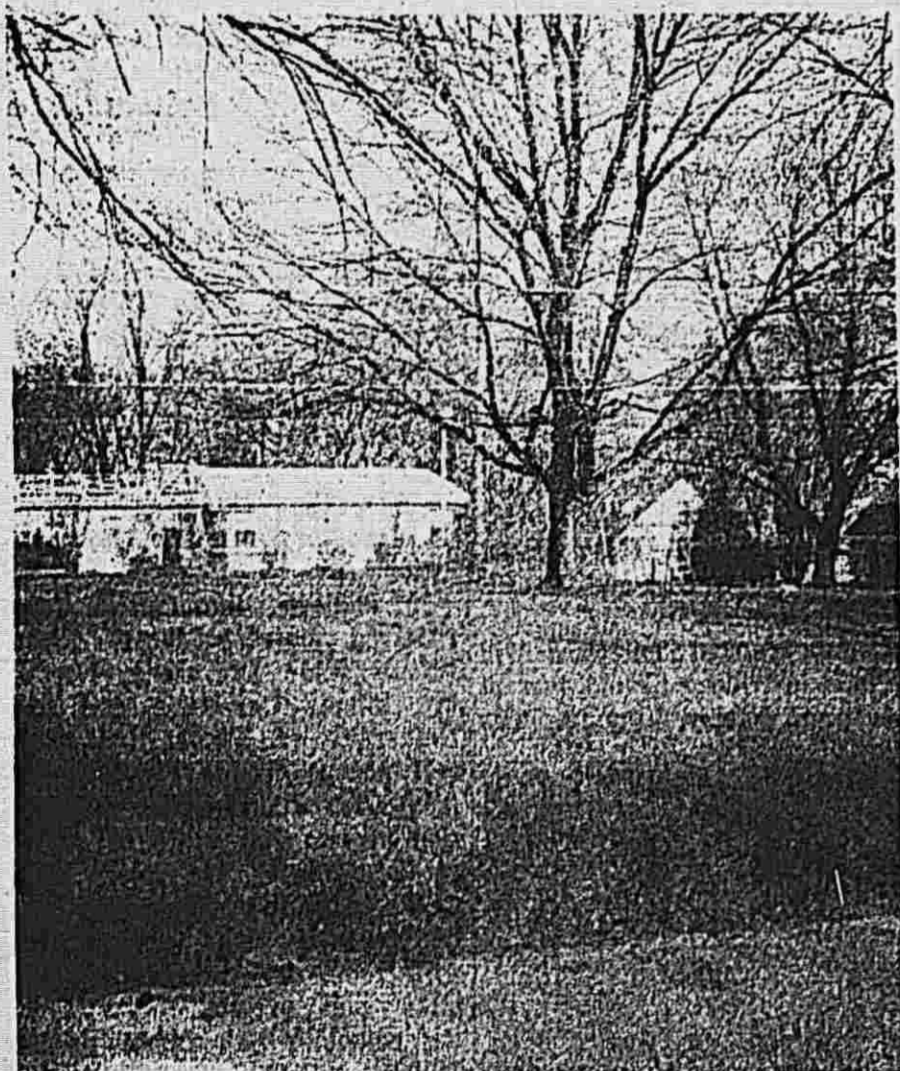

It doesn't take long for a piece of vacant property to go to seed if the owners just don't care.

In the Petite Lake lot passersby have tossed old cans, bottles and barbecues along with sofa cushions and other debris.

The first piece of debris was probably the worst because it attracted the others as if it were a magnet.

Adding to the mess are cut down trees and underbrush that hasn't been cleared out in a long time.

In contrast to the above lot we show you one at the Rock Lake Subdivision.

The lot is vacant but it is being kept up by a proud owner. The underbrush has been cleared away and the trees on the lot are stately and set off the property.

We wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea for the Lake County officials to pass an ordinance requiring property owners to clean up their land in unincorporated areas.

We know that it wouldn't be long before a citation were issued to the owner of the property for creating a nuisance if the site in question were in a municipality.

Not only is it unsightly for the neighboring homes in the area but it could also become a health hazard if besides the trash some garbage were put into the area.

We think the supervisors in the county should take such a measure under consideration.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

A constitutional proposal to lower the voting age to 18 is not likely to receive favorable action in the present session of the Congress. Many practical reasons prompt this conclusion, notwithstanding strong evidence to the effect that 18-year-olds are both mature enough and intelligent enough to be trusted with the right to vote. Indeed, the late President Dwight Eisenhower, whose passing the nation continues to mourn, was a staunch advocate of lowering the voting age to 18. This policy was adopted by former President Lyndon B. Johnson who delivered a strong supporting message to the Congress as late as last year.

Americans at 18 years of age are adults for most purposes. They are treated as adults in most courts of law and are held responsible for their acts. They are generally eligible to marry and to execute binding contracts. Of course, they are the most sought after Americans for the bearing of arms. At 18, most young Americans have graduated from high school and are frequently better informed than many older Americans.

Several states have granted the right to vote at 18, including the State of Georgia in 1943 and the State of Kentucky in 1955. No difficulties attributable to these young voters have occurred in either of those states.

But the efforts of a number of states to lower the voting age to 18 have been noticeably unsuccessful in recent years. The States of Missouri, Oklahoma, North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, and Michigan have all rejected proposals to lower the voting age. In addition, just a few weeks ago, the Maryland legislature rejected a similar proposal to lower the voting age.

If a recommendation should be presented to the Congress by President Nixon, the measure would come to the House Judiciary Committee which is headed by Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York—an outspoken opponent of lowering the voting age. Congressman Celler's arguments are of special significance because, as Chairman of the Committee, he is able to wield great influence on legislation to be considered and acted upon. In expressing his opposition, Congressman Celler declared recently:

"When we consider how easily the adolescent is inflamed, how passionately he attaches himself to 'causes', how imperative it is for him at that age to see in patterns of black or white without shadings lest he falter in his commitments, we can readily understand why the demagogue, and the dictator, and the hypnotic

Edison To Receive ISPE 1969 Award

Commonwealth Edison Company has been chosen to receive the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers' outstanding engineering accomplishment award for 1969.

J. P. Murphy, ISPE president, said the award will be presented at a luncheon to be held May 10 in the Marriott Motor Hotel, Chicago, during ISPE's annual conference.

Murphy said Commonwealth Edison will be honored for its contributions to the development of commercial nuclear power, as demonstrated by the company's Dresden, Quad-Cities, and Zion stations now operating or under construction at three locations in Illinois. He said the award is "in recognition of the benefit to mankind, the creative significance and the advancement of engineering technology manifested in these outstanding engineering projects."

The Illinois Society of Professional Engineers is a 5,000 member organization made up of registered professional engineers representing all fields of engineering. The statewide association's headquarters are located in Springfield. The society's annual conference will be held May 8 through May 10.

sonal property taxes. He said these taxes are needed to support the various districts, including schools, fire protection, municipalities, etc., and those who fail to pay are only shifting the burden on real estate owners who eventually would have to make up the difference.

Deadline for payment of personal property taxes is June 1st, the same date as first installments on real estate are due. Second installment deadline for real estate is September 1, after which a 1% per month penalty is imposed.

orator have been able, historically, to capture the youth of the land. Witness the regimes of Hitler and Mussolini. There are sound psychological reasons why the age of 21 has been considered the beginning of maturity."

In the light of numerous riots and disturbances on our college campuses in which mostly non-voters under the age of 21 have been involved, it is more than likely that Congressman Celler's position will be even more persuasive. While the disruptive campus radicals may be but a small minority of the total under 21 college population, their effect on the Congress could be the fatal blow to a long-sought desire for citizens between 18 and 21 to express themselves through the ballot box.

Public opinion polls have shown a general increase in favor of lowering the voting age. In 1967, 64 per cent of those polled were in favor of lowering the voting age to 18. But strangely enough, no marked eagerness has been expressed by the young people themselves.

Older Americans may be mildly enthusiastic about lowering the voting age to 18. But with the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee standing in flat opposition, and with the 18-year-old youthful activists expressing themselves in a manner quite irrelevant to the right to vote, there is small likelihood that the Congress will move to lower the voting age during this first session of the 91st Congress.

the Correspondent status from North Central Association will make CLC eligible to apply for Federal funds and qualify for participation in a variety of Federally sponsored programs, including student grants and loans.

"Now that the first steps toward full North Central accreditation have been taken, CLC administrators will be working with an NCA consultant who will provide counsel and guidance in planning and developing the College's educational program. One of the most formidable tasks ahead for us will be the preparation of an extensive self-study of CLC philosophy and objectives and the educational program. This phase will take at least two years, after which NCA will re-examine the College and determine whether we have achieved our goal: to provide the best possible educational opportunity for all the people of Lake County," Dr. Erzen concluded.

Members of the County Board Highway Committee were enthusiastic in their praise of the department for construction of the new roller, Assistant Supervisor John Shafer of Benton Township is chairman of the committee.

Taft also signed a proclamation getting May 23 and 24 as Veterans Poppy Day in Antioch. Representing the American Legion and its Auxiliary in the ceremonies were Mrs. Bernard DeVries and P. A. Swenson.

The mayor also announced that Clean-Up Week will be the week of May 12 through 16 and pick-ups will be made at the curb. All hydrants in town will be flushed on May 5.

The board in other action approved the recommendation of the Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals to rezone from B1 to R5 Lot 4 of Simon's subdivision at the request of Osmond Enterprises, Inc., for construction of a five-unit building.

There was one objection to the change at the hearing, and the zoning board voted 5 to 1 in favor of the change.

The mayor also announced that the Antioch Grade School Board had decided to accept the village plan for supplying sewer and water facilities to the new middle school on Rte. 173.

The cost to the board of education will be $35,000 and the project is contingent on the school board annexing the property to the village.

The board decided, also, to advertise for bids on the sale of the village police station.

Toft pointed out that the station is outmoded and obsolete and a party, whom he did not name, is interested in purchasing the structure.

Following the regular board meeting the new officials of the village were sworn in for four year terms and Toft presented plaques to Clarence Shults and Meierdick, who are retiring, and to the daughter of Mrs. Martha Hunter, former treasurer, in her behalf. Mrs. Hunter resigned the treasurer's post because of illness.

The board, in final action before swearing in ceremonies passed an ordinance making the intersection of Ida and Anita a four-way stop.

2 Antioch Students Win Essay Contest

Two Antioch students were among the winners recently in the American Legion Auxiliary No. 748 Americanism essay contest.

They were Valerie Strom, of 495 Winsor Drive, a senior at Antioch High School, and Yolanda Maria Holtzee, 12, a 7th grader at St. Peter's School.

Their topic was "How I Can Best Serve My Country."

Their essays were written by Valerie Strom:

Democracy is based on the belief that the individual is all important. The democratic form of government stresses the worth and dignity of each person. This is the central idea at work within all democratic governments.

From this very basic belief the American citizen is given his civil liberties and all other freedoms. Assuming that each American citizen enjoys his freedom, he must also find himself responsible for the actions of his country.

It is the American citizen who elects the people who make the decisions that constitute the actions of the United States. For this reason, it is essential that every American citizen keep himself informed. One cannot make rational and logical decisions unless one has facts to support these decisions. By keeping informed, it is not only beneficial to the country, but also to the people, because in the United States the people are the Country.

After the citizen becomes informed and aware of what is happening, he must act according to his own conscience. If he feels he is justified in protesting, he may do so, but he must remember that if he infringes upon the rights of others, his objectives are destroyed. Therefore, in the process of helping the country he is actually hindering it.

On the other hand, if the citizen concludes that the country is functioning to suit the problems of the people, his job becomes an even bigger one. For example, each American citizen must behave according to the law. This does not only apply to criminals but to every citizen. Each citizen must drive according to the law. He must secure all necessary permits and licenses. He must pay taxes. He must serve on juries when called to do so. He must pay all fines he might receive.

These all seem to be rather small and petty responsibilities. But these can lead to bigger ends. Each citizen must regard the rights of others as though they were his own. Property must not be destroyed and violence and killing cannot be tolerated.

There is also a positive side to the responsibilities of an American citizen. He must vote if he is eligible. He must serve in the Armed Forces if he is asked to do so. If he is called upon in any capacity to serve his country, he must do so.

Perhaps the biggest responsibility of the American citizen is to better himself. He must strive for a good education. This will help him in securing a good occupation. The American citizen must learn to treat others as he would want to be treated and he must also learn to safeguard the rights of others as though they were his own.

The only way to strengthen America is to raise the education standards, the moral standards and the living standards of the American citizen. The government cannot do this for the people, they must do this for themselves.

It is my firm belief that the only way I can serve my country is to better myself. After I have received a good education, I can put what I have learned to work. I can be objective about my country but at the same time I can serve it. If every person did this, the United States would be a better country. After all, the people are the country.

This essay was written by Yolanda Maria Holtzee.

First of all, I want to state that my country, the United States of America, is the very best in the world. Also, that I consider it an honor and a privilege to be able to serve her in anyway that I can.

At my age, there is not much I really can do, but I can start by studying the laws of this great nation of ours, and by obeying the ones pertaining to me. I can develop a keen interest in politics.

I will study seriously and try to get as good an education as I possibly can, for I know that an educated adult can help better my country.

Also, I will see to it that discrimination does not enter into my life, but will treat all citizens of this beloved country of mine, equally. I will try to end the bitterness and hatred among our citizens.

I will, however, defend my country against any insults, criticisms, or damaging effects, be they physical or mental, committed by anti-Americans.

I will help keep my country beautiful by not being a litterbug and by encouraging others to drop this ever careless habit. I shall respect other people's property.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL, AMERICA THE GREAT, IS MINE! I shall study, work, think, breathe, and live for her interests to the very best of my abilities, so help me God.

McClory Polling District

Congressman McClory is polling citizens of the 12th Congressional District (Lake and McHenry Counties, Barrington and Hanover Townships in Cook County) on key issues facing the 91st Congress. The IBM card questionnaire will go to more than 130,000 households according to the Congressman's estimate.

Constituents may record their position on key public issues by punching responses to questions and mailing the IBM cards to Congressman McClory's Washington office.

The 11 questions covered in this year's poll relate to (a) the Vietnam War; (b) the proposed ABM defense system; (c) Electoral College reform; (d) student disorders; and (e) other critical issues.

Although only one questionnaire will be mailed to each household, any voter may receive a questionnaire by addressing his request to the Congressman's office as follows: The Honorable Robert McClory, 426 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, (or 326 North Genesee St., Waukegan, Ill. 60085.)

In commenting on the significance of the questionnaire project, Congressman McClory stated:

"I am more anxious than ever to receive a generous response to this year's questionnaire. While the responsibility for making decisions on critical issues must be mine, the value of this public response cannot be overestimated. I am hoping that most citizens will take the brief time necessary to respond to the 11 questions which cover most of the principal issues facing the United States Congress."

Several of the questions in the Congressman's questionnaire are identical with those propounded by other Representatives of the Congress. This will permit comparisons of public attitudes in various sections of the country.

It is estimated that about one-third of the Members of the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate this year will employ some form of public poll of constituents on legislative issues in a manner similar to that adopted by Congressman McClory.

Several "live" demonstrations of students' shop skills will be performed for visitors to the exhibit area. Among them will be plastic injection molding, wood turning, electronics, commercial art, graphic art, and automotive engine analysis and diagnosis.

In addition, projects on display will include such eye-stopping creations as a sheet metal octopus which blows air and lights up, produced by Dunbar Vocational high school students; and an original design, 14-foot sailboat with rigging, entered by students from Washington high school.

Judging of the entries, which fall into nine categories, will be conducted the day before the exhibition's opening, by a committee of industrialists, architects, engineers, labor leaders and educators.

One Grand Award will be given to a student in each category, consisting of a large trophy and a hand electric power tool. Ribbon will go to second place winners, and for honorable mentions. Prizes and awards are furnished by the sponsoring associations, through business and industry donations.

Chicago regional winners will receive certificates of merit which entitle them to participate on the state competition this August at the State Fair in Springfield. They will be joined in the exhibit by winners of the five other regional contests held throughout the state.

Methodist Campaign Hits Goals

The United Methodist Church's campaign to attack the racial problems and other social ills in urban centers was given a big boost this week when it was announced that financial goals for the Fund for Reconciliation had been passed.

The one-year national goal of $20,000,000 announced last July has received pledges of over $22,000,000 with three months to go.

The Northern Illinois Conference (nineteen northern counties of Illinois, in which there are 462 United Methodist churches) has received $48,523 in pledges to date. Only 197 of the 462 churches have completed their campaigns. Eighty-six will conduct them during May.

No goal was set in Northern Illinois but a spokesman for Bishop Thomas M. Pryor indicated that "expectations were in the neighborhood of $450,000. We are greatly pleased with this generous response."

Science Projects Will Get Showing

Some 2,500 outstanding technical projects, created by elementary and high school students, will be displayed May 8 through 11 at the Museum of Science and Industry, during the Fifth Annual Chicago Regional Industrial Education exhibit.

The projects represent the finest from among more than 5,000 originally entered in preliminary competition at individual schools.

Attending the exhibit's opening will be Dr. James F. Redmond, General Superintendent of Chicago Public Schools; Joseph J. Dixon, Assistant Superintendent of Vocational and Practical Arts Education; Robert O. Pohl, founder and president of the Chicago Regional Industrial Education Assn.; and Museum President Daniel M. McMaster.

According to Pohl, the annual exhibit is evidence that Chicago has, and will continue to stimulate, the kind of training—through broad industrial education—that will provide us with highly skilled and qualified individuals to meet tomorrow's employment needs.

To illustrate Pohl's statement, several "live" demonstrations of students' shop skills will be performed for visitors to the exhibit area. Among them will be plastic injection molding, wood turning, electronics, commercial art, graphic art, and automotive engine analysis and diagnosis.

Housing A Knotty Problem

"It will take radical, dynamic change to solve the housing problem in our county." That was one of the statements which came out of the latest meeting of the newly-formed Lake County Housing Study Committee. The group was created under authority of the County Board of Supervisors to look into the critical shortage of dwelling units.

The committee heard a presentation from Norman Drummond, director of the Regional Planning Commission on land use. Drummond used the comprehensive plan, with revisions, adopted in 1965.

Asked if the plan was developed with a county population of one million persons in mind, Drummond said it was designed to carry into 1985 with a projected population of 680,000 people. Members of the committee again cited sewer and water as the number one problem limiting housing developments. A spokesman for the sewer and water subcommittee of the housing study group said they have very candid recommendations to make on the subject, and a report is forthcoming.

Drummond pointed out that water availability is not a worry, in that known sources of ground water would support a population of one million. This is without considering use of Lake Michigan water.

Extension of sewers to likely areas of major developments is one prime concern to the committee. One member said if the County Public Works department had $100,000,000 at its disposal it couldn't spend the money fast enough to meet the challenge of new home, and new apartment requirements.

Another member said he believes potential developers are often bottlenecked by county zoning restrictions. He said, "We could attract millions of new dollars to Lake County if allowances are made for variations. Very often a developer stands alone at a zoning hearing when he is desirous of erecting new multiple dwelling units."

More subcommittee reports are expected when the committee meets again in two weeks.

Contractors Recruiting Graduates

High school seniors who will graduate in June, but do not intend to go on to college are being recruited by industry, service trades and the apprenticeship programs of the building and construction trades and one of the most active industries in the recruiting fight is the plumbing and heating industry.

Representatives of the Plumbing and Heating Contractors Association of Lake and McHenry Counties and of Local 93, United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States and Canada have appeared at many high schools in the area to urge seniors to consider a career in the plumbing industry.

"There is a shortage of journeymen plumbers and apprentices in this area at the present time and this shortage will become more acute if more young men do not take advantage of a career in this field," according to James DiPietro, of Deerfield, chairman of the Joint Apprenticeship Committee of the Contractors Association and Local 93.

"The future is bright for a young man entering the plumbing industry because of predictions of continued high levels of new construction and the growing importance of skilled servicemen to service the many new products being developed in the industry," DiPietro said.

A young man entering the plumbing apprenticeship must be a high school graduate, between the ages of 18 and 25, an American citizen and must have some aptitude for working with tools and with his hands. There is no restriction because of race, color or creed.

"The starting rate of $2.60 an hour and the five year apprenticeship program have been deterrents to many youngsters, but standards in the apprenticeship program cannot be lowered because the work performed by the journeyman plumber is becoming increasingly sophisticated," DiPietro pointed out.

"However," he added, "an apprentice can look forward to steady employment, annual wage increases, health, welfare, and pension benefits, and increased responsibility if he had the talent to become a foreman or superintendent."

Military deferment under the apprenticeship program is also an important consideration.

Young men interested in becoming apprentices in the plumbing industry can secure more information from their school guidance counselors, from Ron Short, secretary-treasurer of Local 93 in Waukegan; by calling the office of the Plumbing and Heating Contractors Association, 336-3303, or by contacting any member of the association.

Green Stands For Safety At NI-Gas

The color green symbolizes different things to different people, but to employees of Northern Illinois Gas Company it stands for safety, ranking right along in popularity with the blue of a natural gas flame.

Green—the hue of the cross in the National Safety Council's safety flag emblem—was much in evidence in dress and trappings at NI-Gas' April 21 management meeting, which was devoted entirely to the subject of safety.

Marvin Chandler, chairman and president, stressed the importance of safety in the company's operations, saying that there can be no question about relative priorities.

"Safety cannot be second to other things we do," Chandler said. "Safety is our commitment. Every day."

He said NI-Gas and the gas industry have long subscribed to strict safety standards and practices, have excellent records compared to other utilities and industries, yet cannot afford complacency.

Highlighting the meeting was a "Blue Ribbon Panel on Safety," made up of senior officers, division executives, and supervisory personnel. The panel fielded questions from the audience, about half of which was comprised of managers and other employees from the divisions. The meeting's purpose was to emphasize NI-Gas' dedication to public safety, personal safety and vehicular safety, as well as to discuss problems and seek their solutions.

AARP To Enjoy Luncheon, Cards

A luncheon and card party for members of the Antioch Area Chapter, No. 387, AARP, will be held on Tuesday, May 13th, at noon in the Rustic Manor, Gurnee. Members will travel by cars from the parking area of the Antioch Savings & Loan, at 11 a.m., with the number of reservations taken at 77.

The chapter board taking into consideration the well attended meetings, the community room space for large meetings, the number of chairs and tables, had the idea that the chapter should close the membership and place additional members wishing to join on a waiting list.

A verse from Psalms in the Responsive Reading states: "The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed."

"Divine Love corrects and governs man. Men may pardon, but this divine Principle alone, reforms the sinner." This correlative passage is from the denomination's textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

GOOD CITIZENS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

Citizenship involves more than casting a ballot, attending a civic club meeting, and obeying the law. Citizenship means wholehearted, day-to-day support of both government and the civic and philanthropic agencies which work for community improvement.

(Name of agency or project) benefits your community and directly or indirectly benefits you and yours. And your help is appreciated, needed and deserved.

Help, won't you?

Carpenter Romps At Waukegan Track

Chrysler Corporation made their mark at the Waukegan Speedway Saturday night before a full house as Bob Carpenter of Villa Park romped home the 30 lap super stock feature in a 1965 Plymouth. Ray Young wound up second after a sensational accident in the 17th lap.

Carpenter took the lead at the green flag and held it for five laps before Jim Cossman slipped by on the inside. Carpenter never fell back, tapping at Jim's rear bumper. By the tenth lap Rick Kleich was third with Young fourth and Eric Johnson fifth.

In the 11th lap Young spun off Johnson's bumper in the first turn and Al Hagerty became involved. Now Cossman, Carpenter and Kleich opened up a sizable margin. Cossman got crossed-up in the 17th lap, weaved through the infield and slammed into Carpenter ripping his fender off and into Kleich tearing a wheel off. Kleich's '69 Chevy burst into flame and the race was quickly stopped.

On the restart Carpenter maintained the lead, although Elmer Musgrave unslipped himself and was the first to take the checkered flag. The official finish found Carpenter first, followed by Young, Rich Sundling, Hagerty and Musgrave.

Carpenter drives a 1965 Plymouth with a 383 cubic inch competition engine. Bob's red and white racer is sponsored by John Spatola's Marathon in Wood Dale. The hobby feature came to a crashing halt in the first lap when eight cars were involved in a second turn collision. Charles Belcher was hit head-on as his car spun wildly, but he was unhurt. Jim Couch won that event.

A total of three fires spiced the action. Charles Brown had his car engulfed in flame in a hobby heat but escaped serious injury. Herb Artelt also had a small fire in his late model.

Bob Anzinger won the trophy dash in a close finish over Johnson and Bud Koelker. John Spatola won the first heat with a last lap win over George Dostal. The other heats went to Marty Boacher, Cossman and Hagerty. Boacher came back to win the semi-feature event with Delain Doles finishing second.

RAINS STOP SUNDAY RACES

Heavy late afternoon and evening rains closed the Waukegan Speedway Sunday night and prevented "Sunday Driver" Ray Young from recording his third Sunday feature win at the Speedway in April. Late Model super stock car racing is scheduled for both Saturday and Sunday night next weekend.

Dragaway To Feature Funny Cars

The United Drag Racers nitro burning fuel injected "Funny Cars" make their second appearance of the young season Sunday at the Great Lakes Dragway.

Nick Gaglione of Chicago will be trying to duplicate his win of last month when he drove his '69 Chevy to a narrow victory in the "Spring Championships".

His stiffest competition is expected from Al Fontanini of Glenview with a '69 Charger, Jim Slack of Valparaiso with a '69 Roadrunner and Jack Dittmars of Harvey, Ill., with a '69 Buick Opel.

Slack was runnerup last month. Dittmars had top speed of the meet while Fontanini blew his engine in the first race.

Sunday's program is slated to begin at 2 p.m.

The usual Saturday races get under way at 3 p.m.

Street racers take over the dragstrip for grudge racing and time runs from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Total cost of $1 allows them to race the entire 5 hours.

The dragstrip is 20 miles south of Milwaukee at Union Grove.

Salem Has Intermural Baseball

Fifty-four boys reported for Salem Consolidated intramural baseball, as these boys comprise four teams—Buccaneers, Bruins, Redwings and North Stars. In the first week of the season, the North Stars beat the Buccaneers and the Bruins bombed the Redwings.

The Bruins blistered the Redwings with 19 hits as they pounded out a 19-7 victory. With the game nip and tuck in the early innings, the Redwings broke the game open in the last three innings as they scored 13 runs in these innings.

The following Saturday night found another asphalt veteran in the winner's circle as Eric Johnson of Mundelein captured the 30 lap event. The Sunday night competition resulted in the closest feature finish in many years at the Speedway as Young and Heitz swept across the finish line side-by-side in a photo finish, with Young again the victor.

Going into last Saturday's events two Chevilles and Young's Mercury Cyclone accounted for all the wins. With Ford and General Motors squaring off Saturday to break the tie, Bob Carpenter of Villa Park outfoxed the other rivals and put his Plymouth in the winner's circle before another large crowd.

The big winners in the hobby division have been Tom Reuss and Jim Couch of Grayslake and Bud Herman of Barrington. All three of these drivers pilot bright green stock cars. Dave Stirsman of Highland Park ranks fourth in points and Grandmother Cora Morton of Zion is in fifth spot.

Hunting Dates Set

Hunting seasons for cock pheasant, quail, Hungarian partridge and rabbits will begin Saturday, Nov. 15, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced. Squirrel season in the Southern Conservation Zone starts Friday, Aug. 1. Monday, Sept. 1 is opening day in the Northern Zone. Hunting season for raccoon, opossum, skunk and weasel starts Saturday, Nov. 1.

The Ukari is the only short tailed monkey in the New World. It shows a remarkable resemblance to the orangutan in general appearance.

Victory For Salem In Opener

Salem Consolidated opened the baseball season with a 15-12 victory over Riverview. Riverview held a 2-0 lead at the end of three—half but Salem exploded for nine runs in their half of the fourth. The big hits were a triple by Mark Vlahakis and a home run by George Lebango. Both of these hits came with the bases loaded. Riverview closed the gap to one run at the end of six and a half, but Salem added two more insurance runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Stock Champ Will Defend His Title

Roger Otto of Burlington, Wis., is all set to compete for the 1969 season and defend his IRA Championship at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot when action gets under way on Saturday night, May 24.

Otto won the 1968 Championship on the final night of racing at Wilmot last year. It marked his third season's title in the super fast modifieds that have had a popular run of 15 years at the Wilmot oval. Roger and other IRA drivers have already been in competition at the Lake Geneva Speed Center, where another three time Champion, Whitey Harris of Lake Villa, has won two features in a row.

These two were the top contenders last year but a new modified stock car in the hands of Tommy Anderson of Antioch may cause them both to run second many times this year. Anderson has been very impressive at the Speed Center in the two dates there so far.

Jr. Dodd of Waukegan, a veteran of 10 years in the modified stock car sport, is another serious contender that has always caused the front runners to try harder. Management for the IRA's promotion at Wilmot will again be headed up by Ray Toft of Antioch. He has announced a special ladies' powder puff race that will be held in addition to the modifieds and late models on Thursday night, May 29.

The Olympic Committee is responsible for selection and supervision of athletes that represent this nation in the Olympic and Pan American Games.

When a car is pulling away from the curb a motorist about to park in the space to be vacated should wait behind the departing car—not in front of it. Waiting in front for the space forces the motorist pulling away from it to cross the center-line or enter the fast-moving lane of traffic before he reaches a safe speed.

Antioch High Boys Join Interact Club

On a recent Wednesday evening, members of the Antioch Rotary Club met with a group of interested boys from Antioch Community High School for the purpose of setting up an Interact Club.

Interact Club is an international high school service and social club sponsored by Rotary International. There are over 2000 Interact Clubs now active throughout the world.

The interested boys attending were Rick LaChance, Rick Nelson, Kevin O'Neill, John Prossie, Jim Shore, and David Taylor.

These young men were designated to serve as the Board of Directors for the Interact Club with Rick Nelson serving as Chairman and John Prossie as Secretary.

During the meeting, a number of projects were discussed as well as several future social events. It was felt that Interact could sponsor a high school dance in the near future.

Rick LaChance and Rick Nelson are checking into arrangements for live music and Kevin O'Neill is checking into locations for the dance.

The club also wants to sponsor a youth employment service for high school students over the summer. John Prossie is working with the Rotary Club to set this up.

A number of additional projects were discussed and a list was compiled. There was much enthusiasm over projects as the members expressed their opinions and ideas.

The Chairman, Rick Nelson, encouraged all members to invite ACHS fellows to the next club meeting to be held at his home, 1055 Victoria, Antioch, at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday. Membership is open to all students.

HE HAD IT MADE

"Doc, why did you choose to be a skin specialist?"

"Because my patients never get me out of bed at night, they never die, and they never get well."

Leaders of the new Interact Club at Antioch are Rick Nelson, chairman of the board of directors and John Prossie, secretary to the board.

FROM THE STATEHOUSE

LT. GOV. PAUL SIMON

Ogilvie Budget: Some Changes Needed

Governor Richard Ogilvie has told the people the harsh facts of the revenue picture, and has made his recommendations—some of them good, some not so good.

The most controversial aspect of his message is his call for a four per cent income tax for individuals and corporations. Forty-one states have a corporate income tax and thirty-eight states have an individual income tax. In only one other state is the tax the same on individuals as corporations.

Perhaps as significant as anything, he calls for a state income tax with no reduction in other taxes.

Let me suggest a modification in the Ogilvie proposals which would give some relief to people paying heavily in the present tax picture:

1. Apply a tax of 3 per cent on individuals and 5.5 per cent on corporations. This would follow the pattern of other states.

2. As of January 1, 1970, remove the sales tax on food. I won't go into the complexities of how this can be done, but it can be. I'll be pleased to answer this question by mail in detail to anyone who writes me.

3. Eliminate the corporation franchise tax, since corporations are paying their fair share under this proposal.

4. Apply a credit of 50 per cent on the income tax for the first $100 of real estate and personal property tax paid. On the next $200 paid, 25 per cent could be credited. Those who pay the real estate and personal property taxes but do not have the income—and many senior citizens and large families would fall in this category—would receive a refund up to 50% on the first $100 paid and 25% on the next $200. This would provide real relief to the person paying property and personal property taxes.

What are the mathematics of this?

In millions of dollars, this is the way it works out:

1. 3% on individuals, 5.5% on corporations on income, with $1,000 exemptions	$1,468
2. As of January 1, 1970, eliminate the sales tax on food	-83
3. Eliminate corporate franchise tax as proposed	-43
4. Credits and refunds on real estate and personal property taxes	-180

TOTAL $1,162

Subtract from that the $135 million which the governor proposes to give to local governments and the total is $1,027,000,000.

That is $81 million higher than the governor's estimate of revenue need, and in my opinion it would be much fairer. The $81 million could be used to reduce other taxes or to give more assistance to schools.

If you like this idea, let your legislators and the governor know.

Motorists should hold their own lanes on superhighways, advises the Chicago Motor Club-AAA. The little time gained, if any, by weaving from one lane to another is not worth the risk involved.

Canned Pears In Popular Baked Salad

Baked salads are a popular choice for a guest luncheon. This delicious Hot Pear Seafood Salad is certain to become a favorite and one you'll want to serve often when entertaining. Easy on the hostess, the salad can be assembled in advance, then popped into the oven when the guests arrive. Complete your menu with assorted relishes and hot fluffy biscuits. Lemon-filled meringues would be a perfect choice for dessert.
Tiny pink shrimp are combined with crisp celery, green onion and green pepper. Sliced water chestnuts add extra crispness and a touch of curry imparts a special flavor to the mayonnaise dressing. Canned Bartlett pears, sparkling with a glaze of French dressing, are the base for the salad. Delicately flavored and bursting with juicy, they are a perfect complement to the shrimp mixture.

Baked Pear Seafood Salad
2 (1 lb.) cans Bartlett pears
1/2 cup French dressing
3/4 pound small shrimp
1 cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely sliced green onion
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/4 cup sliced water chestnuts
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1/4 teaspoon curry powder

Drain pear halves. Marinate in French dressing 1 hour. Combine shrimp, celery, green onion, green pepper and water chestnuts. Add mayonnaise and seasonings and blend thoroughly. Remove pears from marinade. In each individual ramekin or baking dish place 2 pear halves. Spoon shrimp salad in the center. Bake in a 350-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Although the total number of farm workers has declined continuously in the past 50 years, the Department of Labor reports a growing shortage of the highly skilled individuals needed for the managerial and scientific positions created by today's large, mechanized farms.
